

Celebrating Halloween at School

A Story for Students and Teachers in 2020.

Every year, on the school day before Halloween, my class has a Halloween party.

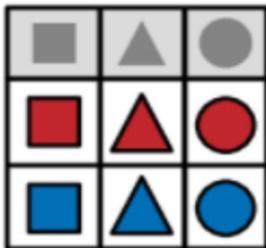

On this day, we have worn our costumes, watched holiday videos, and eaten snacks and candy.

This year, schools are following new rules to stop bad germs from spreading. These rules help keep everyone healthy.

This year, there is a new rule about sharing food. The rule says that students and teachers cannot share food. To follow the rule, my class will not have a party with candy.

Halloween may be different this year, but it can still be fun. I can ask my teacher what my class can do to celebrate Halloween.

My teacher might say “no” to something on the “unsafe” list, and “yes!” to ideas on the “safe” list.

Some of my favorite parts of Halloween are still safe to do. I can have a safe and fun Halloween celebration!
